

Fight, fight, fight - Sukanya Dutta

Fight, fight, fight
Every single day and night
It makes you forget about wrong or right
It's only about fight, fight, fight.

Fight, fight, fight
Don't lose your grip, hold tight
Carry it on with all your might
It's all about your fight, fight, fight.

Fight, fight, fight
Up or down, left or right
Don't let it out of your sight
It's your life, so fight, fight, fight.

Fight, fight, fight
Try to be on the path of right
Don't stoop too low, hold your height
It's for freedom, so fight, fight, fight.

The world is engaged in war at different levels, with different people, for different reasons. We all are getting drawn into this war. We all are fighting in some way or the other, with situations, with people, and with ourselves. Why? For freedom. Everybody is fighting for a different type of freedom, but the fight for freedom is constant. In this constant plight, let us not forget about this day when we got some freedom. Let's not forget about that in our daily quest for freedom.

Happy Independence Day!
